This year, the ascending and descending Nodes

of the Lunar Orbit are situated near the Equinoctial points, ♈ and ♎, which will cause the moon's declination, North & South, to be greater than it has been for near 20 years past; and indeed, as great as it ever was; or ever will be. Consequently the moon will sometimes run higher, or more Northerly than usual; and at other times, she will decline far to the southward, and run lower than common.

On the 21st of March, the moon will be on the meridian at 5 o'clock 38 min. in the evening, at which time she will be higher, or more Northerly, than the sun ever comes, by 5 degrees and 3 min. she will pass the meridian only 12 degrees 54 min. from our zenith, (or point over head.) And on the 13th of Octo. at 5 o'clock 19 min. in the afternoon, the moon will be on the meridian; only 20 degrees 10 minutes above the horizon.

ADDRESS

OF THE LATE

General George Washington,

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE

UNITED STATES,

ON DECLINING A RE-ELECTION TO THE OFFICE OF PRESIDENT.

Friends and Fellow-Citizens,

THE period for a new election of a Citizen, to administer the executive government of the the United States, being not far distant, and the time actually arrived, when your thoughts must be employed in designating the person, who is to be cloathed with that important trust, it appears to me proper, especially as it may conduce to a more distinct expression of the public voice, that I should now apprise you of the resolution I have formed, to decline being considered among the number of those, out of whom a choice is to be made.

I beg you, at the same time, to do me the justice to be assured, that this resolution has not been taken, without a strict regard to all the considerations appertaining to the relation, which binds a dutiful citizen to his country; and that in withdrawing the tender of service which silence in my situation might imply, I am influenced by no diminution of zeal for your future interest; no deficiency of grateful respect for your past kindness; but am ſupported by a full conviction that the ſtep is compatible with both.

The acceptance of, and continuance hitherto in the office to which your ſuffrages have twice called me, have, been a uniform ſacrifice of inclination to the opinion of duty, and to a deference for what appeared to be your deſire. I conſtantly hoped, that it would have been much earlier in my power, conſiſtently with motives, which I was not at liberty to diſregard, to return to that retirement, from which I had been reluctantly drawn. The ſtrength of my inclination to do this, previous to the laſt election, had even led to the preparation of an addreſs to declare it to you: but mature reflection on the then perplexed and critical poſture of our affairs with foreign nations, and the unanimous advice of perſons entitled to my confidence, impelled me to abandon the idea.

I rejoice, that the ſtate of your concerns, external as well as internal, no longer renders the purſuit of inclination incompatible with the ſentiment of duty, or propriety, and am perſuaded whatever partiality may be retained for my ſervices, that in the preſent circumſtances of our country, you will not diſapprove my determination to retire.

The impreſſions with which I firſt undertook the arduous truſt, were explained on the proper occaſion. In the diſcharge of this truſt, I will only ſay, that I have with good intentions, contributed towards the organization and adminiſtration of the government, the beſt exertions of which a very fallible judgment was capable. Not unconſcious, in the outſet of the inferiority of my qualifications, experience in my own eyes, perhaps ſtill more in the eyes of others, has ſtrengthened the motives of diffidence of myſelf; and every day the encreaſing weight of years admoniſhes me more and more, that the ſhade of retirement is as neceſſary to me as it will be welcome. Satisfied that if any circumſtances have given peculiar value to my ſervices, they were temporary, I have the conſolation to believe, that while choice and prudence invite me to quit the political ſcene, patriotiſm does not forbid it.

In looking forward to the moment, which is intended to terminate the career of my public life, my feelings do not permit me to ſuſpend the deep acknowledgment of that debt of gratitude, which I owe to my beloved country, for the many honours it has conferred upon me; ſtill more for the ſtedfaſt confidence with which it has ſupported me; and for the opportunities I have thence enjoyed of manifeſting my inviolable attachment, by ſervices faithful and perſevering, though in uſefulneſs unequal to my zeal. If benefits have reſulted to our country from theſe ſervices, let it always be remembered to your praiſe, and as an inſtructive example in our annals, that under circumſtances in which the paſſions, agitated in every direction, were liable to miſlead, amidſt appearances ſometimes dubious,—viciſſitudes of fortune often diſcouraging,—in ſituations in which not unfrequently want of ſucceſs, has contenanced the ſpirit of criticiſm—the conſtancy of your ſupport was the eſſential prop of the efforts, and a guarantee of the plans by which they were effected. Profoundly penetrated with this idea, I ſhall carry it with me to my grave, as a ſtrong incitement to unceaſing vows that Heaven may continue to you the choiceſt tokens of its beneficence--that your union and brotherly affection may be perpetual—that the free conſtitution, which is the work of your hands, may be ſacredly maintained--that its adminiſtration in every department may be ſtamped with wiſdom and virtue–that, in fine, the happineſs of the people of theſe States, under the auſpices of liberty, may be made complete, by ſo careful a preſervation and ſo prudent a uſe of this bleſſing as will acquire to them the glory of recommending it to the applauſe, the affection and adoption of every nation which is yet a ſtranger to it.

Here, perhaps, I ought to ſtop. But a ſolicitude for your welfare, which cannot end but with my life, and the apprehenſion of danger, natural to that ſolicitude, urge me on an occaſion like the preſent, to offer to your ſolemn contemplation, and to recommend to your frequent review, ſome ſentiments, which are the reſult of much reflection, of no inconſiderable obſervation, and which appear to me all-important to the permanency of your felicity as a people. Theſe will be offered to you with the more freedom, as you can only ſee in them the diſintereſted warnings of a parting friend, who can poſſibly have no perſonal motive to bias his counſel. Nor can I forget, as an encouragement to it, your indulgent reception of my ſentiments on a former and not diſſimilar occaſion.

Interwoven as is the love of liberty with every ligament of your hearts, no recommendation of mine is neceſſary to fortify or confirm the attachment.

The unity of government which conſtitutes you one people, is alſo now dear to you. It is juſtly ſo ; for it is a main pillar in the edifice of your real independence, the ſupport of your tranquility at home, your peace abroad ; of your ſafety ; of your proſperity ; of that very liberty which you ſo highly prize. But as it is eaſy to foreſee, that from different cauſes and from different quarters, much pains will be taken, many artifices employed, to weaken in your minds the conviction of this truth ; as this is the point in your political fortreſs againſt which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be moſt conſtantly and actively (though often covertly and inſidiouſly) directed, it is of infinite moment, that you ſhould properly eſtimate the immenſe value of your national union, to your collective and individual happineſs ; that you ſhould cheriſh a cordial, habitual and immoveable attachment to it ; accuſtoming yourſelves to think and ſpeak of it as the Palladium of your political ſafety and proſperity, watching for its preſervation with jealous anxiety ; diſcountenancing whatever may ſuggeſt even a ſuſpicion that it can in any event be abandoned ; and indignantly frowning upon the firſt dawning of any attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the reſt, or to enfeeble the ſacred ties which now link together the various parts.

For this you have every inducement of ſympathy and intereſt. Citizens, by birth or choice, of a common country, that country has a right to concentrate your affections. The name of AMERICAN, which belongs to you in your national capacity, muſt always exalt the juſt pride of patriotiſm, more than any appellation derived from local diſcriminations. With ſlight ſhades of difference you have the ſame religion, manners, habits and political principles. You have in a common cauſe fought and triumphed together ; the independence and liberty you poſſeſs are the work of joint councils, and joint efforts, of common dangers, ſufferings and ſucceſſes.

But theſe conſiderations however powerfully they addreſs themſelves to your ſenſiblity, are greatly outweighed by thoſe which apply more immediately to your intereſt. Here every portion of your country find the moſt commanding motives for carefully guarding and preſerving the union of the whole.

The North in an unreſtrained intercourſe with the South, protected by the equal laws of a common government, finds in the productions of the latter, great additional reſources of maritime and commercial enterprize, and precious materials of manufacturing induſtry. The ſouth in the ſame intercourſe, benefitting by the agency of the North, ſees its agriculture grow, and its commerce expand. Turning partly into its own channels the ſeamen of the North, it finds its particular navigation invigorated—and while it contributes, in different ways, to flouriſh and increaſe the general maſs of the national navigation, it looks forward to the protection of a maritime ſtrength, to which itſelf is unequally adapted. The Eaſt in a like intercourſe with the Weſt, already finds, and in the progreſſive improvement of interior communications, by land and water, will more and more find a valuable vent for the commodities which it brings from abroad, or manufactures at home. The Weſt derives from the Eaſt ſupplies requiſite to its growth and comfort—and what is perhaps of ſtill greater conſequence it muſt of neceſſity owe the ſecure enjoyment of indiſpenſible outlets for its own productions to the weight, influence, and the future maritime ſtrength of the Atlantic ſide of the union, directed by an indiſſoluble community of intereſt as one nation. Any other tenure by which the Weſt can hold this eſſential advantage, whether derived from its own ſeparate ſtrengh, or from an apoſtate and unnatural connection with any foreign power, muſt be intrinſically precarious.

While then every part of our country thus feels an immediate and particular intereſt in Union, all the parts combined cannot fail to find in the united maſs of means and efforts, greater ſtrength, greater reſource, proportionably greater ſecurity, from external danger, a leſs frequent interruption of their peace by foreign nations; and what is of ineſtimable value; they muſt derive from Union an exemption from thoſe broils and wars between themſelves which ſo frequently afflict neighbouring countries, not tied together by the ſame government; which their own rivalſhips alone would be ſufficient to produce, but which oppoſite foreign alliances, attachments and intrigues would ſtimulate and embitter. Hence, likewiſe, they will avoid the neceſſity of thoſe overgrown military eſtabliſhments, which under any form of government are inauſpicious to liberty, and which are to be regarded as particularly hoſtile to Republican Liberty: In this ſenſe it is, that your Union ought to be conſidered as a main prop of your liberty, and that the love of the one ought to endear to you the preſervation of the other.

Theſe conſiderations ſpeak a perſuaſive language to every reflecting and virtuous mind, and exhibit the continuance of the UNION as a primary object of a patriotic deſire. Is there a doubt, whether a common government can embrace ſo large a ſphere? Let experience ſolve it. To liſten to mere ſpeculation in ſuch a caſe were criminal. We are authoriſed to hope that a proper organization of the whole, with the auxiliary agency of governments for the reſpective ſubdiviſions, will afford a happy iſſue to the experiment. 'Tis well worth a fair and full experiment. With ſuch powerful and obvious motives to Union, affecting all parts of our country, while experiment ſhall not have demonſtrated its impracticability, there will always be reaſon to diſtruſt the patriotiſm of thoſe, who in any quarter may endeavor to weaken its bands.

In contemplating the cauſes which may diſturb our Union, it occurs as matter of ſerious concern, that any ground ſhould be furniſhed for characteriſing parties, by Geographical diſcriminations--Northern and Southern---Atlantic and Weſtern; whence deſigning men may endeavor to excite a belief, that there is a real difference of local intereſts and views. One of the expedients of party to acquire influence, within particular diſtricts, is to miſrepreſent the opinions and aims of ſome other diſtricts. You cannot ſhield yourſelves too much againſt the jealouſies and heart-burnings which ſpring from theſe miſrepreſentations; they tend to render alien to each other, thoſe who ought to be bound together by fraternal affection. The inhabitants of our weſtern country have lately had a uſeful leſſon on this head. They have ſeen in the negociation by the Executive, and in the unanimous ratification by the Senate, of the Treaty with Spain, and in the univerſal ſatisfaction at that event throughout the United States, a deciſive proof how unfounded were the ſuſpicions propagated among them, of a policy in the general government and in the Atlantic States unfriendly to their intereſts in regard to the Miſſiſippi; they have been witneſſes to the formation of two treaties, that with Great Britain, and that with Spain, which ſecure to them every thing they could deſire, in reſpect to our foreign relations, towards confirming their proſperity. Will it not be their wiſdom to rely for the preſervation of theſe advantages on the UNION by which they were procured? Will they not henceforth be deaf to thoſe adviſers, if ſuch there are, who would ſever them from their brethren, and connect them with aliens ?

To the efficacy and permanency of your Union, a government for the whole is indiſpenſable. No alliances, however ſtrict, between the parts can be an adequate ſubſtitute ; they will inevitably experience the infractions and interruptions which all alliances in all times have experienced--Senſible of this momentous truth, you have improved upon your firſt eſſay, by the adoption of a conſtitution of government better calculated than your former for an intimate Union, and for the efficacious management of your common concerns. This government, the offspring of your own choice, uninfluenced and unawed, adopted upon full inveſtigation and mature deliberation, completely free in its principles, in the diſtribution of its powers, uniting ſecurity with energy, and containing within itſelf a proviſion for its own amendment, has a juſt claim to your confidence and your ſupport. Reſpect for its authority, compliance with its laws, acquieſcence in its meaſures, are duties enjoined by the fundamental maxims of true liberty. The baſis of our political ſyſtems is the right of the people to make and to alter their conſtitutions of government. But the conſtitution which at any time exiſts, until changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is ſacredly obligatory upon all. The very idea of the power and the right of the people to eſtabliſh government, pre-ſuppoſes the duty of every individual to obey the eſtabliſhed government.

All obſtructions to the execution of the laws, all combinations and aſſociations, under whatever plauſible characters, with the real deſign to direct, control, counteract or awe the regular deliberation and action of the conſtituted authorities, are deſtructive of this fundamental principle, and of fatal tendency. They ſerve to organize faction, to give it an artificial and extraordinary force; to put in the place of the delegated will of the nation, the will of a party, often a ſmall but artful and enterprizing minority of the community; and, according to the alternate triumphs of different parties, to make the public adminiſtration the mirror of the ill-concerted and incongruous projects of faction, rather than the organ of conſiſtent and wholeſome plans digeſted by common councils, modified by mutual intereſts.

However combinations or aſſociations of the above deſcription may now and then anſwer popular ends, they are likely in the courſe of time and things, to become potent engines, by which cunning, ambitious and unprincipled men will be enabled to ſubvert the power of the people, and to uſurp for themſelves the reins of government; deſtroying afterwards the very engines which have lifted them to unjuſt dominion.

Towards the preſervation of your government, and the permanency of your preſent happy ſtate, it is requiſite, not only that you ſteadily diſcountenance irregular oppoſition to its acknowledged authority, but alſo that you reſiſt with care the ſpirit of innovation upon its principles however ſpecious the pretext.—One method of aſſault may be to effect in the forms of the conſtitution, alterations which will impair the energy of the ſyſtem, and thus to undermine what cannot be directly overthrown. In all the changes to which you may be invited, remember that time and habit are at leaſt as neceſſary to fix the true character of government, as of other human inſtitutions—that experience is the ſureſt ſtandard, by which to teſt the real tendency of the exiſting conſtitution of a country—that facility in changes upon the credit of mere hypotheſis and opinion, expoſes to perpetual change, from the endleſs variety of hypotheſis and opinion; and remember, eſpecially, that for the efficient management of your common intereſts, in a country ſo extenſive as ours, a government of as much vigour as is conſiſtent with the perfect ſecurity of liberty, is indiſpenſable. Liberty itſelf will find in ſuch a government, with powers properly diſtributed and adjuſted, its ſureſt guardian. It is, indeed little elſe than a name, where the government is too feeble to withſtand the enterpriſes of faction, to confine each member of the ſociety within the limits preſcribed by the laws, and to maintain all in the ſecure and tranquil enjoyment of the rights of perſon and property.

I have already intimated to you, the danger of parties in the ſtate, with particular reference to the founding of them on geographical diſcriminations. Let me now take a more comprehenſive view, and warn you in the moſt ſolemn manner againſt the baneful effects of the ſpirit of party, generally.

This ſpirit unfortunately, is inſeparable from our nature, having its root in the ſtrongeſt paſſions of the human mind. It exiſts under different ſhapes in all governments, more or leſs ſtifled, controlled, or oppreſſed; but in thoſe of the popular form, it is ſeen in its greateſt rankneſs and is truly their worſt enemy.

The alternate donomination of one faction over another, ſharpened by the ſpirit of revenge, natural to party diſſention, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the moſt horrid enormities, is itſelf a frightful deſpotiſm.—But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent deſpotiſm.—The diſorders and miſeries, which reſult, gradually incline the minds of men to ſeek ſecurity and repoſe in the abſolute power of an individual; and ſooner or later the chief of ſome prevailing faction more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this diſpoſition to the purpoſes of his own elevation, or the ruins of public liberty.

Without looking forward to an extremity of this kind (which nevertheleſs ought not be entirely out of ſight) the common and continual miſchiefs of the ſpirit of party are ſufficient to make it the intereſt and duty of a wiſe people to diſcourage and reſtrain it.

It ſerves always to diſtract the public councils, and enfeeble the public adminiſtration. It agitates the community with ill-founded jealouſies and falſe alarms; kindles the animoſity of one party againſt another; foments, occaſionally, riot and inſurrection. It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption, which find a facilitated acceſs to the government itſelf, through the channels of party paſſions. Thus the policy and the will of one country are ſubjected to the policy and will of another.

There is an opinion that parties in free countries are uſeful checks upon the adminiſtration of the government, and ſerve to keep alive the ſpirit of liberty. This, within certain limits, is probably true; and in governments of a monarchical caſt, patriotiſm may look with indulgence, if not with favour, upon the ſpirit of party. But in thoſe of the popular character, in governments purely elective, it is a ſpirit not to be encouraged. From their natural tendency, it is certain there will always be enough of that ſpirit for every ſalutary purpoſe : And there being conſtant danger of exceſs, the effort ought to be by force of public opinion, to mitigate and aſſuage it. It is a fire not to be quenched ; it demands uniform vigilence to prevent its burſting into a flame, leſt, inſtead of warming it ſhould conſume.

It is important likewiſe that the habits of thinking in a free country, ſhould inſpire caution in thoſe entruſted with its adminiſtration, to confine themſelves within their reſpective conſtitutional ſpheres, avoiding in the exerciſe of the powers of one department, to encroach upon another. The ſpirit of encroachment tends to conſolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to create, whatever the form of government, a real deſpotiſm. A juſt eſtimate of that love of power, and proneneſs to abuſe it, which predominates in the human heart, is ſufficient to ſatisfy us of the truth of this poſition. The neceſſity of reciprocal checks in the exerciſe of political power ; by dividing and diſtributing it into different depoſitories, and conſtituting each the guardian of the public weal againſt invaſions by the others, has been evinced by experiments ancient and modern ; ſome of them in our country, and under our own eyes. To preſerve them muſt be as neceſſary as to inſtitute them. If in the opinion of the people, the diſtribution or modification of the conſtitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the conſtitution deſignates.—But let there be no change by uſurpation ; for though this in one inſtance, may be in the inſtrument of good, it is the cuſtomary weapon by which free governments are deſtroyed—The precedent muſt always greatly over-balance in permanent evil any partial or tranſient benefit which the uſe can at any time yield.

Of all the diſpoſitions and habits which lead to political proſperity, Religion and Morality are indiſpenſable ſupports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotiſm, who ſhould labour to ſubvert theſe great pillars of human happineſs, theſe firmeſt props of the duties of men and citizens. The mere politician, equally with the pious man, ought to reſpect and to cheriſh them. A volume could not trace all their connections with private and public felicity. Let it ſimply be aſked, where is the ſecurity for property, for reputation, for life, if the ſenſe of religious obligation deſert the oaths which are the inſtruments of inveſtigation in Courts of Juſtice? And let us with caution indulge the ſuppoſition, that morality can be maintained without Religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar ſtructure; reaſon and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in excluſion of religious principle.

It is ſubſtantially true, that virtue or morality is a neceſſary ſpring of popular government. The rule indeed extends with more or leſs force to every ſpecies of free government. Who that is a ſincere friend to it can look with indifference upon attempts to ſhake the foundation of the fabric?

Promote, then, as an object of primary importance, inſtitutions for the general diffuſion of knowledge. In proportion as the ſtructure of a government gives force to public opinion, it is eſſential that public opinion ſhould be enlightened.

As a very important ſource of ſtrength and ſecurity, cheriſh public credit. One method of preſerving it is to uſe it as ſparingly as poſſible; avoiding occaſions of expence by cultivating peace, but remembering alſo that timely diſburſements to prepare for dangers, frequently prevent much greater diſburſements to repel it; avoiding likewiſe the accumulation of debt, not only by ſhunning occaſions of expence, but by vigorous exertions in time of peace to diſcharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occaſioned, not ungenerouſly throwing upon poſterity the burthen which we ourſelves ought to bear. The execution of theſe maxims belongs to your Repreſentatives, but it is neceſſary that public opinion ſhould co-operate. To facilitate to them the performance of their duty, it is eſſential, that you ſhould practically bear in mind, that towards the payment of debts there muſt be Revenue: That to have Revenue there muſt be Taxes; that no Taxes can be deviſed which are not more or leſs inconvenient and unpleaſant; that the intrinſic embarraſſment inſeparable from the ſelection of the proper objects (which is always a choice of difficulties) ought to be a deciſive motive for a candid conſtruction of the conduct of the government in making it, and for a ſpirit of acquieſcence in the meaſures for obtaining Revenue which the public exigencies may at any time dictate.

Obſerve good faith and juſtice towards all Nations, cultivate peace, and harmony with all;—religion and morality enjoin this conduct: And can it be that good policy does not equally enjoin it ? It will be worthy of a free, enlightened, and, (at no diſtant period,) a great Nation, to give to mankind the magnanimous and too novel example of a people always guided by an exalted juſtice and benevolence. Who can doubt that in the courſe of time and things, the fruits of ſuch a plan would richly repay any temporary advantages which might be loſt by a ſteady adherance to it ? Can it be, that Providence has not connected the permanent felicity of a nation with its Virtue ? The experiment at leaſt, is recommended by every ſentiment which enobles human nature. Alas ! Is it rendered impoſſible by its vices ?

In the execution of ſuch a plan, nothing is more eſſential than that permanent, inveterate antipathies againſt particular Nations, and paſſionate attachments for others ſhould be excluded : And that in the place of them juſt and amicable feelings towards all ſhould be cultivated The Nation, which indulges towards another an habitual hatred, or an habitual fondneſs, is in ſome degree a ſlave. It is a ſlave to its animoſity, or to its affection, either of which is ſufficient to lead it aſtray from its duty and its intereſt. Antipathy in one nation againſt another diſpoſes each more readily to offer inſult and injury, to lay hold of ſlight cauſes of umbrage and to be haughty and intractable, when accidental or trifling occaſions of diſpute occur. Hence frequent colliſions, obſtinate, envenomed and bloody conteſts. The nation, prompted by ill will and reſentment, ſometimes impels to war the government, contrary to the beſt calculations of policy. The government ſometimes participates in the national propenſity, and adopts through paſſion what reaſon would reject ; at other times it makes the animoſity of the nation ſubſervient to projects of hoſtility inſtigated by pride, ambition, and other ſiniſter and pernicious motives. The peace often, ſometimes perhaps the liberty, of nations has been the victim.

So likewiſe, a paſſionate attachment of one nation for another produces a variety of evils. Sympathy for the favorite nation, facilitating the illuſion of an imaginary common intereſt, in caſes where no real common intereſt exiſts, and infuſing into one the enmities of the other, betrays the former into a participation in the quarrels and wars of the latter, without adequate inducement or juſtification. It leads alſo to conceſſions to the favorite nation of privileges denied to others, which is apt doubly to injure the nation making the conceſſions; by unneceſſarily parting with what ought to have been retained; and by exciting jealouſy, ill will and a diſpoſition to retaliate, in the parties from whom equal privileges are withheld: And it gives to ambitious, corrupted, or deluded citizens (who devote themſelves to the favorite nation) facility to betray, or ſacrifice the intereſts of their own country, without odium, ſometimes even with popularity: Gilding with the appearances of a virtuous ſenſe of obligation a commendable deference for public opinion, or a laudable zeal for public good, the baſe or fooliſh compliances of ambition, corruption or infatuation.

As avenues to foreign influence in innumerable ways, ſuch attachments are particularly alarming to the truly enlightened and independent patriot. How many opportunities do they afford to tamper with domeſtic factions, to practice the arts of ſeduction, to miſlead public opinion, to influence or awe the public Councils ! Such an attachment of a ſmall or weak, towards a great and powerful nation, dooms the former to be the ſatelite of the latter.

Againſt the inſidious wiles of foreign influence (I conjure you to believe me, fellow-citizens) the jealouſy of a free people ought to be conſtantly awake ; ſince hiſtory and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the moſt baneful foes of Republican Government. But that jealouſy to be uſeful, muſt be impartial ; elſe it becomes the inſtrument of the very influence to be avoided, inſtead of a defence againſt it. Exceſſive partiality for one foreign nation, and exceſſive diſlike of another, cauſe thoſe whom they actuate to ſee danger only on one ſide, and ſerve to veil and even ſecond the arts of influence on the other.— Real patriots, who may reſiſt the intrigues of the favourite, are liable to become ſuſpected and odious ; while its tools and dupes uſurp the applauſe and confidence of the people, to ſurrender their intereſts

The great rule of conduct for us, in regard to foreign nations, is in extending our commercial relations, to have with them as little political connection as poſſible. So far as we have already formed in engagements, let them be fulfilled with perfect good faith. Here let us ſtop.

Europe has a ſet of primary intereſts, which to us have none, or a very remote relation. Hence ſhe muſt be engaged in frequent controverſies, the cauſes of which are eſſentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it muſt be unwiſe in us to implicate ourſelves, by artificial ties, in the ordinary viciſſitudes of her politics, or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships, or enmities.

Our detached and distant situation, invites and enables us to pursue a different course. If we remain one people, under an efficient government, the period is not far off when we may defy material injury from external annoyance; when we may take such an attitude as will cause the neutrality, we may at any time resolve upon, to be scrupulously respected; when belligerent nations, under the impossibility of making acquisitions upon us, will not lightly hazard the giving us provocations; when we may choose peace or war as our interest, guided by justice, shall counsel.

Why forego the advantages of so peculiar a situation? Why quit our own to stand upon foreign ground? Why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalship, interest, humour, or caprice?

'Tis our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances, with any portion of the foreign world; so far, I mean as we are now at liberty to do it; for let me not be understood as capable of patronizing infidelity to existing engagements. I hold the maxim no less applicable to public than to private affairs, that honesty is always the best policy. I repeat it, therefore, let those engagements be observed in their genuine sense. But in my opinion, it is unnecessary, and would be unwise to extend them.

Taking care always to keep ourselves by suitable establishments, on a respectable defensive posture we may safely trust to temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies.

Harmony, liberal intercourse with all nations are recommended by policy, humanity, and interest. But even our commercial policy should hold an equal and impartial hand; neither seeking or granting exclusive favors or preferences; consulting the natural course of things; diffusing and diversifying by gentle means, the streams of commerce, but forcing nothing; establishing, with powers so disposed, in order to give trade a stable course, to define the rights of our merchats, and to enable the government to support them;—conventional rules of intercourse, the best that present circumstances and mutual opinion will permit, but temporary, and liable to be from time to time abandoned or varied, as experience and circumstances shall dictate; constantly keeping in view, that 'tis folly in one nation to look for disinterested favors from another; that it must pay with a portion of its independence for whatever it may accept under that character; that by such acceptance, it may place itself in the condition of having given equivalents for nominal favors, and yet of being reproached with ingratitude for not giving more. There can be no greater error than to expect, or calculate upon real favors from nation to nation. 'Tis an illusion which experience must cure, which a just pride ought to discard.

In offering to you my countrymen, these counsels of an old and affectionate friend, I dare not hope they will make the strong and lasting impression I could wish—that they will controul the usual current of the passions, or prevent our nation from running the course which has hitherto marked the destiny of nations: But if I may, even flatter myself, that they may be productive of some partial benefit, some occasional good; that they may now and then recur to moderate the fury of party ſpirit, to warn againſt the miſchiefs of foreign intrigue, to guard againſt the impoſtures of pretended patriotiſm ; this hope will be a full recompence for the ſolicitude for your welfare, by which they have been dictated.

How far in the diſcharge of my official duties, I have been guided by the principles which have been delineated, the public records and other evidences of my conduct muſt witneſs to you and to the world. To myſelf, the aſſurance of my own conſcience is, that I have at leaſt believed myſelf to be guided by them.

In relation to the ſtill ſubſiſting war in Europe, my Proclamation of the 22d of April, 1793, is the index to my plan.—Sanctioned by your approving voice, and by that of your Repreſentatives in both Houſes of Congreſs, the ſpirit of that meaſure has continually governed me ; uninfluenced by any attempts to deter or divert me from it.

After deliberate examination with the aid of the beſt lights I could obtain, I was well ſatisfied that our country, under all the circumſtances of the caſe, had a right to take, and was bound in duty and intereſt, to take a neutral poſition. Having taken it, I determined, as far as ſhould depend on me, to maintain it, with moderation and firmneſs.

The conſiderations which reſpect the right to hold this conduct, it is not neceſſary on this occaſion to detail. I will only obſerve, that according to my underſtanding of the matter, that right, ſo far from being denied by any of the Belligerent powers, has been virtually admitted by all.

The duty of holding a neutral conduct may be inferred, without any thing more, from the obligation which juſtice and humanity impoſe on every nation, in caſes in which it is free to act, to maintain inviolate the relations of peace and amity towards other nations.

The inducements of intereſt for obſerving that conduct will beſt be referred to your own reflections and experience. With me, a predominant motive has been to endeavor to gain time to our country to ſettle and mature its yet recent inſtitutions, and to progreſs without interruption, to that degree of ſtrength and conſiſtency, which is neceſſary to give it, humanly ſpeaking, the command of its own fortunes.

Though in reviewing the incidents of my adminiſtration, I am unconſcious of intentional error: I am nevertheleſs too ſenſible of my defects not to think it probable that I have committed many errors. Whatever they may be, I fervently beſeech the Almighty to avert or mitigate the evils to which they may tend. I ſhall alſo carry with me the hope that my country will never ceaſe to view them with indulgence; and that after forty-five years of my life dedicated to its ſervice, with an upright zeal, the faults of incompetent abilities will be conſigned to oblivion, as myſelf muſt ſoon be the manſions of reſt.

Relying on its kindneſs in this as in other things, and actuated by that fervent love towards it, which is ſo natural to a man who views in it the native ſoil of himſelf and his progenitors for ſeveral generations; I anticipate with pleaſing expectation that retreat, in which I promiſe myſelf to realize, without alloy, the ſweet enjoyment of partaking, in the midſt of my fellow-citizens, the benign influence of good laws under a free government—the ever favorite object of my heart, and the happy reward, as I trust, of our mutual cares, labors and dangers.

CORRESPONDENTS,

Would greatly oblige the editor by making their communications as early as the middle of October. He has reasons for wishing, also, that they may not be anonymous.

Military gentlemen are desired to excuse inaccuracies in the list of militia officers. Some of the Brigade Majors not having made returns to the Adjutant General as the law directs, we were under the necessity of copying the former returns. In our next Register, those Brigades of which no returns are made, will be designated.

ABSTRACT

Of the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury the United States, October, 1803.

THE nett revenue arising from duties on merchai dize and tonnage in 1802, exceeded 10,000,000 do lars ; the revenue of the two first quarters 1803, was 50,000 dollars less than the correspondin quarters in 1802 ; but in the year ending Septembe 30, 1803, this revenue exceeded 10,000,000 dollars the annual revenue from customs may now be safel calculated at ten millions of dollars, and from th sale of public lands at 400,000 ; the permanent an nual expenses of government amount to 9,800,00 dollars, of which 7,300,000 dollars are annually ap propriated for the payment of the principal and in terest of the debt, of which about three millions an an half are at present applicable to the discharge o the principal, and the residue to the payment of th interest ; and 2,500,000 dollars, for the current ex penses of government. The above 9,800,000 bein deducted from the annual revenue of 10,400,000, leav a surplus revenue of 600,000 dollars, applicable t her objects. Exclusive of the permanent resources, the specie in the Treasury amounts to 5,860,000 dollars ; which, with arrears of direct tax, outstanding internal duties, and a sum to be repaid on account of advances made in England for the prosecution of claims, make an aggregate in the Treasury of 6,660,000. This sum, after reserving the sum which it is necessary to keep in the treasury, will be adequate to the discharge of the 2,664,000 due on account of the convention with Great Britain—of the extraordinary expences attending the French and British conventions, estimated at 100,000—of the loan of 200,000 dollars obtained from Maryland, for the city of Washington ; and of the two millions of dollars appropriated on account of the purchase of Louisiana. Independent of the two millions above mentioned, the new debt to be created on account of Louisiana will not exceed Thirteen Millions of dollars ; the annual interest of which, and expences, is estimated at 800,000 dollars. This last sum will be paid out of the 600,000 dollars surplus above mentioned, and the nett revenue collected at New-Orleans ;—which last is estimated at 350,000 dollars, subject however to a deduction of 150,000 dollars, on account of the diminution of the revenue now collected on the imposts from New-Orleans ; the expences of the civil administration, and those incident to the intercourse with the Indians. The report provides for the payment of the interest on the French debt out of the Sinking Fund ; which will make the annual permanent appropriation for the Sinking Fund eight millions of dollars. The new debt will neither impede nor retard the payment of the principal of the old debt ; and the fund will be sufficient, besides paying the interest on both, to discharge the principal of the old debt before the year 1818, and that of the new, within one year and an half after that date. In relation to the American claims, the payment of which is assumed by the convention with France, the appropriation of 3,750,000 dollars out of what remains of the unappropriated monies in the Treasury is recommended; and that the President be authorised to borrow 1,750,000 dollars, at 6 per cent, to effect the whole payment.

OBSERVATION.

THE hour of the night is, many times, more conveniently eſtimated by the moon's ſouthing, than by her riſing and ſetting.

To find the moon's ſouthing:

RULE.

Add three hours to the time of high water, on any given day, as it is inſerted in this almanack, and you will have the true time of the moon's ſouthing for that day.

N. B. If you double the time of the ſun's ſetting, you will have the length of the day, and double the time of the ſun's riſing will be the length of the night.

Names and Characters of the Planets.

☉ Sol, or Sun. ☽ ● or ☽ Luna, or Moon. ♄ Saturn. ♃ Jupiter. ♂ Mars. ♀ Venus. ☿ Mercury. H. Herſchel. ⊕ Tellas, or Earth.
